A Fine Production

Judging by the significant looks which were exchanged in the audience last Friday and Saturday nights during the performances of "The Torch Bearers," it is quite evident that some home drama centers and some alleged dramatic producers were being held up to ridicule. Oh no! Not on the part of the players or the producer of this particular play, but on the part of George Kelly, the playwright. Just as Sinclair Lewis' particular Main Street fitted in anywhere.

And another significant fact was further developed by the splendid production of "The Torch Bearers." A person long identified with the theatre said to the writer a short time ago, "George Ball can neither produce nor act." I now rise to remark that George can do both very well indeed.

The cast must be given its meed of praise, for without the fine work of every member, which at times reached the height of professional skill, the performances would easily have descended into the realm of farce.

Much of the effectiveness of the lines and the action was enhanced by the settings devised by Rhoda Johnson, and the lighting manipulated by Richard Johnson.

PIONEER FARMER DEAD

Chester O. Holton, well-known here for several years, passed away in the Soldier's Home in Sawtelle, on February 6. He was a native of Vermont and 79 years of age. The remains were interred in the government cemetery.

Mr. Holton came to California after the Civil War, of which he was a veteran. He was affiliated with Lucius Fairchild Post of the G.A.R. of Pacific Grove. "Ches" Holton was a resident of Carmel and of Carmel Valley for forty years. He was a practical farmer.

In March of last year he went to Redlands to make his home with his nephew, O. F. Streeter. Mr. Streeter was in Carmel last week to consult with Attorney Charles Clark concerning settlement of the estate.

YES..... NO.....

A big green car rolled down our Ocean avenue Wednesday and stopped at one of our shops. A liveried chauffeur opened the door and out stepped Poli Negri and Rudolph Valentino. Rumor has it that they purchased their wedding outfit. But one can never tell. Remember, Poli was here not so long ago with Charlie Chaplin.

WOOD-BLOCK ARTIST PASSES

Amos Engel, husband of Fanny Goldsmith Engle, passed away suddenly in San Francisco this week. The news was quite a shock to local friends of the couple. Mr. Engle, formerly of New York, was an artist who had achieved quite a reputation in wood-block work. Mrs. Engle is best known because of her efficiency in the field of marionettes.

A Cherry Festival will be held in the Carmel Church annex next Monday, Washington's birthday. The first event is scheduled to begin at 2:30.

Cup Series Games

The ivory hunters are on the trail of Charlie Berkey. And why not? That efficient young man, pitching for one of the Abalone League teams last Sunday, set a new strike-out record, when he fanned ten of the opposition.

Those two games last Sunday will go down in history as the sloppiest contests that were ever pulled off in these parts. How the scores were kept as close as they were will always remain a mystery.

A soggy ball, a muddy and holey field, splatter and splash, slip and slide, made a Roman holiday for Old Man Pluvius.

By a score of 15 to 6 Colonel Yates' "Larks" nosed out General Dutton's "Eagles," and in the second game Joe Hooper's "Hawks" put it on Fred Beehdolt's "Owls" to the tune of 9 to 8.

The standing of the teams in the Hooper cup series is as follows:

	Games	W	L	Pct.
Hawks	2	2	0	1.000
Larks	2	1	1	.500
Owls	2	1	1	.500
Eagles	2	0	2	.000

There will be two games tomorrow, the first scheduled to begin at 1:30.

MORA DESIGN ACCEPTED

The design of Jo Mora, California's best known sculptor, a resident of Carmel, has been formally accepted by the Mt. Diablo Park Commission. The legends of Mt. Diablo, which the work seeks to perpetuate, are embodied in the monument which consists of a tripod and central pedestal, supporting a cap, which takes the form of a bowl. The pedestal includes three grotesque figures, representing the Indian sun god, the devil and the bear.

Striking features are worked into the three logs of the tripod. They are in the worm of panels, each emblematic of a period. One represents the Christianizing period of the Spanish priests; another the American pioneer period, when the wilderness was being tamed, and the third the establishment of law and order in a period of modern civilization, as typified by the coming of the civil engineer. The latter also reminds the beholder that the meridian and base lines are at Mount Diablo, from which all Northern California surveys are checked.

There are three friezes on the sides of the cap between the points of support of the tripod panels. These are the Indian interpretations of the three periods mentioned above.

DATE CANCELLED

Tomorrow night's engagement of the University of California's Little Theatre in "What Every Woman Knows" at the Theatre of the Golden Bough, was cancelled at the eleventh hour by the university authorities, together with other off-campus dates of the organization. It is believed that the production can be brought here later in the season.

William Deegan of the Dunbar Opera Company, who was an important member of the cast in the Cator-Newberry operetta, "The Beggar of Bagdad," is a guest of the Thomas Vincent Cators.

Coast Highway

Included in the list of roads authorized by the forty million dollar bond issue voted by the people in 1919—seven years ago—there remains uncompleted the thirty-eight mile gap between Carmel and San Simeon.

It is for the purpose of seeing that this work is done promptly that the Carmel-San Simeon Highway Association was formed a short time ago. Supervisor John L. D. Roberts is president of the organization and R. M. Dorton, city manager of Monterey, is secretary.

The complete coast route extends from Santa Monica to Ventura, Oxnard to San Juan Capistrano, San Simeon to Carmel, and from Santa Cruz to San Francisco. The route, when completed, will be the most spectacular, awe-inspiring, scenic highway in all California, if not in the entire world.

The route would develop large areas of agricultural, grazing, timber and mineral lands, and give access to the famous Monterey-Santa Barbara National Forest. It would connect Los Angeles with San Francisco over a route of unparalled fertility, beauty, romance, besides being of great strategic importance. Finances are practically assured for future new construction as well as renewal and maintenance, according to a recently adopted resolution, and "it is deemed but fair and just that the nine central coast counties should have allocated a fair and just portion of the funds to keep up continuous construction."

SAN JUAN ROUTE MAY BE CHANGED

A proposition to eliminate the San Juan grade from the state highway came up before the county board of supervisors this week. A resolution calls upon the state highway commission to make a survey of the proposed "Dumbarton route." This route leaves the present state highway two miles north of Salinas at Santa Rita, skirts the western edge of the San Juan mountains through the region known as "the rocks," goes through Prunedale, thence through a pass in the hills to join the trunk line again at San Juan.

"This proposed route is practical and economical," says Supervisor J. L. D. Roberts.

Should the highway be changed to follow the Dumbarton route, it is understood the county will take over the old San Juan route and maintain it as a county road. An advantage of the new route is said to be the fact that it will give over one hundred ranchers with property adjacent to it easy access to a paved highway.

WAKE UP, CANDIDATES

This is the open season for filing nomination papers for City Trustee. At least a dozen names have been mentioned of those who would succeed Trustees Kibbler, Parkes and Goold, whose terms expire. To date, however, so far as can be ascertained, but one nominating petition is being circulated.

Come on, ye candidates. If your hat is in the ring, get busy on gathering names for your nomination.

No Mail Carriers

Not for some little time will the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea enjoy carrier mail delivery. This is a definite and authoritative announcement.

For several days this week a tall, dignified, official looking gentleman wandered about our fair city, up one street and down another. He not only looked official; he was official.

The gentleman in question was Robert W. Madden, for lo! these many years an inspector of the United States Postoffice department.

For several very good reasons Mr. Madden could not endorse the recommendation of other inspectors that the carrier system be installed at this time or under present conditions. His first objection was to the almost total lack of sidewalks; secondly, the condition of the roadways (he saw them after the recent storm); thirdly, the poor street lighting in populous sections, making difficult the delivery of mail at night.

Mr. Madden will recommend the immediate appointment of an additional full-time clerk to relieve in a measure the conjestion in the post-office.

Meantime, if the residents of Carmel desire carrier service, it is up to them to comply with the requirements of the Postoffice Department.

To facilitate the delivery of telegrams and special delivery letters it may be well for the city to go on with the numbering of the houses in accordance with the recently passed ordinance.

A SOUL? WHY OF COURSE!

Gone to the happy hunting grounds is the little Scotty dog, "Bunty," seen always with Mrs. C. H. Yates. Old-age probably overtook the little animal.

"Bunty" was the property of S. A. Bixby, but when his master and Mrs. Bixby left on an extended eastern trip three years ago, "Bunty" was left with Mrs. Yates.

To some people the passing of a dog does not mean much, but when a faithful little companion like "Bunty" leaves the niche she has carved in our hearts, there is left a great void and pain. It calls to mind the words of Senator George Vest: "The one absolutely unselfish friend a man may have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves unfaithful or treacherous, is the dog." Or this, by Robert Hitchens: "You can't be a cynic when a dog's cold nose is pushed into your hand, and a dog's paw is placed gently and solemnly on your knee."

SESQUICENTENNIAL HISTORY SKETCHES

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence will be observed by the Sesquicentennial International Exposition, which opens at Philadelphia, June 1, 1926.

INDEPENDENCE HALL GROUP

A modest group of Colonial buildings on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, in the heart of the financial district, will possibly claim more attention from visitors to the Sesquicentennial International Exposition this year than any other historical landmark about the city.

The buildings, known as the Independence Hall group, include Independence Hall on the left and old City Hall on the right, the latter two of slightly later date. Together they form a symmetrical group illustrative of the changing phases of early American architecture. Independence Square, a vest pocket park in the background, is crisscrossed with pavements lined with rest benches.

Independence Hall and its wings were designed and built by Andrew Hamilton, a Philadelphia barrister. He was a member of the Provincial Assembly of Pennsylvania, and was one of the committee of three appointed by that body to select a site and put up a building to house the Assembly. In the spring of 1732 ground was broken and the building begun.

"A new great Bell" weighing 2030 pounds, with this motto: "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof," was placed in position in the steeple of Independence Hall in 1753, and a clock was put in place in the tower in 1759.

While the constructive work of Andrew Hamilton embraced only Independence Hall, he had recognized that the city and country would require better accommodations and he had created a trust in the two pieces of ground bounding it on which now stand Congress Hall and the old City Hall.

Congress Hall was completed in 1789 and the City Hall building in 1791. The three together have a frontage on Chestnut Street of 396 feet and were, at the time of their completion, the largest building unit for State purposes in America.

Among the more interesting events which have taken place in the historic structures are Washington's acceptance of his appointment as General of the Continental Army on June 16, 1775; the declaration of the colonies that they were and of right ought to be free and independent states, on July 4, 1776; the signing of the Articles of Confederation and perpetual union between the states by eight states, on July 9, 1778; the reception to Lafayette upon his visit to Philadelphia in 1824; the tolling of the Liberty Bell upon the death of John Marshall, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, on July 8, 1835 and its subsequent cracking; the inauguration of Washington for his second term as President of the United States, on March 4, 1793.

Proceedings of the Board of Trustees

By a vote of 4 to 1 the city trustees last Monday evening adopted Trustee Helen W. Parkes' motion directing the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications for concrete roadways on Dolores street between Ocean and Eighth avenues, and on Seventh avenue between San Carlos avenue and Dolores street.

Trustee Henry P. Larouette's objection to this improvement was based upon the fact that the property-owners had already been assessed three times for Dolores street improvement. In view of the fact, however, that 980 feet of the 1600 feet on Dolores street had petitioned for the improvement, it was incumbent on the trustees to grant the request. A method may be adopted to spread the cost over a larger area.

Insurance for Firemen

A motion adopted at a previous meeting to take out insurance on forty men of the local fire department was rescinded. A communication from the insurance company stated that it would be necessary to pay premiums on the entire membership. A motion was adopted limiting the active membership to twenty men, upon which premiums will be paid.

Electric Sign

The application of Carl S. Rohr to erect an electric sign on his place of business on Ocean avenue was granted, he having complied with the regulations.

Time Extended

Request of the contractor executing the improvement of upper Ocean avenue and Carpenter street for sixty days' additional time to complete the work was granted. Delay has been caused by unfavorable weather conditions.

To Consult With Roberts

Mayor William T. Kibbler reported that he had arranged for a conference with Supervisor J. L. D. Roberts this week concerning the widening and improvement of San Carlos avenue within the city limits.

Compensation Asked For

Miss Alice D. Knight, a nurse employed by Dr. R. A. Kocher, sent in a communication asking compensation in the amount of $315 for injuries and loss of time, the result of falling into a depression near a fire hydrant. The matter was referred to the city attorney, who will report at the next meeting of the board on March 1.

Committee To Investigate

Trustees John B. Dennis and C. O. Goold and the superintendent of streets will investigate the conditions complained of at Ocean avenue and Casanova street by Miss Helen Borden. In discussing this matter, Trustee Larouette called attention to the placing of "No Parking" signs, without the permission of the board of trustees. John B. Jordan endorsed the stand of Miss Borden.

County Health Service

An agreement entered into between the board of supervisors and the board of trustees whereby this city avails itself of the county health service was presented by Dr. H. D. Main and signed by Mayor Kibbler. This service will include milk and meat inspection.

Other Matters

Width of sidewalks on various streets will be recommended by a committee of the board and the superintendent of streets.

Purchase of street repair and improvement equipment is in the hands of a committee, with power to act.

City Engineer H. D. Severence presented a report on the establishment of thel grade on Ocean avenue east of Carpenter street. No action was taken, nor will there be until the trustees go over the ground.

The city attorney presented the signed lease by which the city avails itself of the Roberts garbage dumping grounds near Seaside.

The superintendent of streets will take up the consideration of a communication from J. Beaumont of the Del Monte Properties Co. concerning the straightening out of certain streets connecting with Carmel Woods.

WASHINGTON

IN the galaxy of great men whose birthdays occur this month, the name of Washington shines out more brilliantly, more enduringly than any other. Next Monday we celebrate the 195th anniversary of Washington's birth. The following is a splendid tribute by Rufus Choate:

The Birthday of the Immortal Washington

"The birthday of the 'Father of his Country!' May it ever be freshly remembered by American hearts! May it ever reawaken in them a filial veneration for his memory; ever rekindle the fires of patriotic regard for the country which he loved so well, to which he gave his youthful energy, during the perilous period of the early Indian warfare, to which he devoted his life in the maturity of his powers, in the field; to which again he offered the counsels of his wisdom and his experience, as president of the convention that framed our Constitution; which he guided and directed while in the chair of state, and for which the last prayer of his earthly supplication was offered up, when it came the moment for him so well, and so grandly, and so calmly to die. He was the first man of the time in which he grew. His memory is first and most sacred in our love, and ever hereafter, till the last drop of blood shall freeze in the last American heart, his name shall be a spell of power and might.

"Yes, there is one person, one vast felicity, which no man can share with him. It was the daily beauty, and towering and matchless glory of his life which enabled him to create his country, and at the same time, secure an undying love and regard from the whole American people.

"'The first in the hearts of his countrymen!' yes first! He has our first and most fervent love. Undoubtedly there were brave and wise and good men, before his day, in every colony. But the American nation, as a nation, I do not reckon to have begun before 1774. And the first love of that young America was Washington. The first word she lisped was his name. Her earliest breath spoke it. It still is her proud ejaculation; and it will be the last gasp of her expiring life! Yes, others of our great men have been appreciated—many admired by all—but him we love; him we all love. About and around him we call up no dissentient and discordant and dissatisfied elements—no sectional prejudice nor bias—no party, no creed, no dogma of politics. None of these shall assail him. Yes, when the storm of battle blows darkest and rages highest, the memory of Washington shall nerve every American arm and cheer every American heart. It shall relume that promethean fire, that sublime flame of patriotism, that devoted love of country which his words have commended, which his example has consecrated:

"'Where may the wearied eye repose,
When gazing on the great;
Where neither guilty glory glows
Nor despicable state?

"Yes—one—the first, the last, the best,
The Cincinnatus of the West,
Whom envy dared not hate,
Bequeathed the name of Washington,
To make man blush there was but one.'"

ON RELIGION OF TODAY

THE attention being given to religion by the secular press of England illustrates conspicuously the revival of interest in that subject. Newspaper people regard it as their business to give the public what it wants, and editors evidently have decided that at this time it wants religion. In the past the most important of all subjects was scarcely recognized by the non-religious press; now it is giving much space and prominence to it. One daily after another—the Express, the Standard, and now the Mail—has been publishing special articles on religion. In the first of a series in The Daily Mail, on "The Religion of Today: What Is It?" Mr. Harold Begbie writes that on all hands he discovers evidence of certain qualities in the average man which justify the belief that in his essence he is still religious.

"The orator of atheism," says Mr. Begbie, "no longer attracts scoffing congregations in the public parks. Blasphemy is nothing like so common as it was thirty years ago. The manners of the people on the whole display a spirit of consideration for others which is an expression of religious feeling."

THE TOWN OF DON'T-YOU-WORRY

There's a town called Don't-You-Worry
On the banks of the River Smile,
Where the Cheer-Up and Be-Happy
Blossom sweetly all the while;
Where the Never-Grumble flower
Blooms beside the fragrant Try,
And the Ne'er-Give-Up and Patience
Point their faces to the sky.

In the Valley of Contentment,
In the Province of I-Will,
You will find this lovely city
At the foot of No-Fret-Hill.

There are thoroughfares delightful
In this very charming town;
And on every hand are shade trees
Named the Very-Seldom-Frown;
Rustic benches, quite enticing,
You'll find scattered here and there;
And to each a vine is clinging
Called the Frequent-Earnest Prayer.

Everybody there is happy,
And is singing all the while,
In the Town of Don't-You-Worry,
On the banks o fthe River Smile.
—Exchange.

FREE HONORED

The privilege of presiding over the House of Representatives is one that does not come in the way of many Congressmen, as the regularly elected officers usually perform this mission; but the honor was recently conferred upon Congressman Arthur M. Free of this district who, at the suggestion of the majority leader of the House, presided over that body during the consideration of the army appropriation bill.

Visitors often sit in the Speaker's chair, just to say they have had the privilege of sitting in the chair which has been used by so many great statesmen; but to be called as Mr. Free was by the majority leader of the House to occupy that chair as presiding officer of the House of Representatives in an official capacity, is considered a great honor.

An Agent of Activity

IN the one hundred and fifty years that have passed since the birth of the nation, the area of the United States has grown from the narrow strip of territory along the Atlantic seaboard to a domain of 3,000,000 square miles.

There is nothing comparable in the world to the varied and continuous activity in this vast area. The United States leads every nation in the world in industry, agriculture, and commerce,—in the output of its mines, the products of its forests, the crops of its soil, the goods of its factories, the volume of its trade.

It also leads in communications agencies for the rapid and dependable interchange of thought. Two-thirds of the world's telephones are today in the country's homes, offices, and factories. Fifty million times daily the wires that interconnect them are used for the transaction of the nation's business.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR THE PEOPLE

The Monterey County Board of Supervisors has taken action to establish the first of fifteen memorial parks in the national forests lying in this county. This park is located at the head of the Arroyo Seco in the Santa Lucia range, and will be known as Santa Lucia Memorial Park, in honor of the war dead.

The United States Forest Service informed the supervisors that camp sites in the national forest might be reserved for public use. The board accordingly selected fifteen such sites. It is necessary that one site be taken over yearly for maintenance by the county.

Uncle Sam has agreed to give $10,000 to aid in opening roads and maintaining the park sites. The county will furnish a like amount. It is understood that work on the road leading into the park will be commenced this spring.

The new park contains some of the grandest scenery in California. It is an ideal place for camping, with plenty of running water, and fish and game in abundance.

The actual extent of the park will include only about 60 acres, the entire area of 350,000 acres of national forest will be made accessible and open to the public through the establishment of this county memorial park.

STREETS IN HATTON FIELDS

Contractor W. A. Dontanville has begun work on two miles of road in the Hatton Fields tract, east of Carmel. Men, mules and tractors are on the job, which is expected to be finished early in April.

Paving on all roads will be of gravel eighteen feet wide, and drainage will be taken care of by concrete culverts and headwalls.

The new residence tract will be connected with Carmel streets at nine points, and with the Carmel Valley road at eight points. Save where the roads connect with Carmel streets, the streets have been named for former owners or old families in the vicinity.

There is no truth in the published item to the effect that the concrete pavement at Ninth and Twelfth avenues was washed out by the recent storm. The pavement is as secure as ever. A few pipes were swisted out of shape.

PACIFIC GROVE MUSICAL SOCIETY CONCERT

L. E. M. Cosmey and his organization of musicians are preparing to give one of the best concerts of their four-year career, next Tuesday evening at the Grove Theatre.

The program has been chosen with good judgment, and one who has heard the rehearsals states that this concert will undoubtedly far surpass anything except professional performances. The people of the peninsula need no longer go to San Francisco to satiate their desire for good music.

The program to be presented is:

TRENCH OF THE BAYONETS

The completion of the monument to the memory of the one hundred soldiers whose lives were crushed out in what has come to be designated as "The Trench of the Bayonets," at Verdun, calls attention to the fact that the donor of the fund for building the monument was George F. Rand of Buffalo, N. Y., now deceased. Mr. Rand was a brother of Mrs. Josephine Rand Rogers of San Jose and Carmel.

Concrete is the aristocrat of pavements

Why Calistoga Paved Entirely with Portland Cement Concrete

Calistoga, California, paved its main street with portland cement concrete in 1918.

This street carries the city's heaviest traffic. Yet maintenance on it has been almost nothing. Five years after built, it was in such good condition that local authorities decided to dress up other city streets with concrete.

The thousands of motorists who pass through Calistoga on their way to "The Petrified Forest" are impressed by the fact that this enterprising little city has streets exactly like the thousands of miles of California scenic highways.

They admire the pleasing, light gray color of concrete. They sense the security of its non-skid, unyielding surface, that always remains true and even.

These are some of the reasons why more than 1,000 cities and towns laid concrete streets in 1925.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

Changed Methods in Handling Milk

Where proper sanitary measures are neglected the bacteria in a drop of milk look like this.

Where sanitary precautions are taken there are few harmful bacteria in milk. The white specks are bacteria.

How much do the farmers and dairymen of the United States pay in toll to bacteria in milk? In process of arriving at the answer to this question, representatives of leading milk and dairy products companies of New York recently met with officials of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, with the Department of Farms and Markets and the College of Agriculture at the Experiment Station, Geneva.

The bacterial count is being used more and more as a basis for determining how much per pound a farmer is to be paid for his milk. Getting the bacterial count under a given figure means millions of dollars annually to Uncle Sam's dairymen. Dairymen, themselves, are alive to this question, and where the milk produced is a material part of the income from the farm, complete sanitary precautions are being taken to insure a low bacterial count in the milk.

Precautions start at the beginning of milk production and continue clear through until the time the milk is in the hands of the consumer. To begin with, properly ventilated, easily cleaned stables are provided; plenty of bedding is given the cows; platforms are built the right length to accommodate the particular breed of cows that are kept; the gutter is built wide and deep; the animal is clipped about the udder and flanks periodically. The cows are groomed carefully every day and just before milking, loose particles of dirt are brushed off, or, when the cow is clipped, wiped off with a damp cloth. Small top milk pails are used to receive milk from the cows. Utensils such as milk pails, milk cans, milking machines and separators, are thoroughly sterilized after each milking.

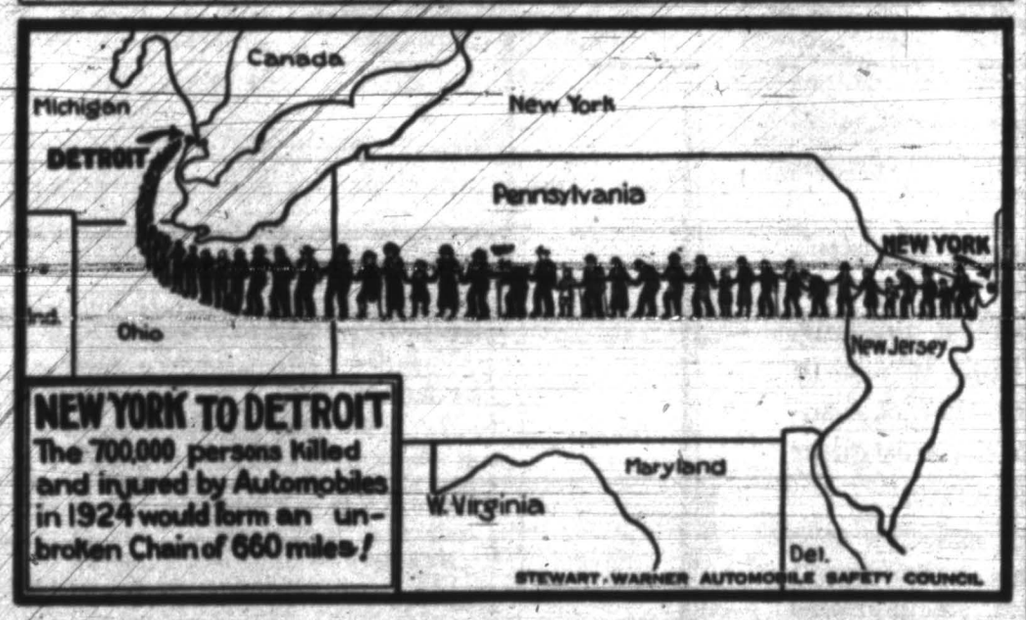
The fresh-drawn milk is immediately removed to the cooling tank where it is cooled to a temperature of 50 degrees to 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

On receipt at the dairy, the creamery or the condensery, the same extreme sanitary precautions prevail. White garbed workers who have passed medical inspection, who observe rules of personal cleanliness as well as hygiene in the handling of milk and milk products, go about their duties efficiently and intelligently. Immediately after the pasteurizing of whole milk, it is bottled and capped. The date of bottling is stamped on the cap and the milk is usually sold before 36 hours have elapsed since pasteurizing.

What a difference over the old-time methods of handling milk!

It is these changed methods in the handling of the nation's milk supply that has swelled the individual consumption of milk to more than 54 gallons per year.

Caravan of Death 660 Miles Long Is Nation's Auto Story



A CARAVAN of death and suffering 660 miles long is what the annual automobile casualties of the United States would form if placed in one continuous line. From New York to Detroit, painful mile on painful mile, this ghastly and pathetic human chain would reach. This graphic picture, prepared by the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents, tells its own story. Twenty-two thousand killed annually by automobiles and 660,000 injured is the present toll caused by thoughtless drivers and careless pedestrians. Only a small per cent of the accidents are due to defects in the cars or can rightly be called unavoidable.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mrs. Hal Bragg and Miss Marian Danields have gone to San Francisco to spend a few days with Camilla Daniels who has taken an apartment there.

The Carmel City Trustees have decided that in the municipal election next April two precincts will be necessary. To that end ten citizens were selected to act as election officers at $6 per.

Ray C. DeYoe, John B. Jordan and Fenton P. Foster of this city attended a meeting at the Monterey Chamber of Commerce rooms Wednesday evening. The meeting had for its purpose the continued and united working out of problems of vital importance to the progress of the Monterey Peninsula in general. Fifteen other citizens of the peninsula were present at the meeting.

CITY'S FINANCIAL STANDING

The annual financial report of City Clerk Saidee Van Brower is published in this issue. The receipts from business licenses was $2247; receipts from the same source in 1924 were only $242. The total expenditure under the heading "Trees" is $129.80, none of it for replanting. The two largest expenditures was for streets and the fire department.

MINETTA LANE

One of the midnight haunts for artists (in Minetta Lane, Greenwich Village) is the Arabian Nights Tavern, which has an art gallery. Here painters known to solons of France and Italy, sip heavy Turkish coffee and smoke many cigarettes. I saw an exhibition of the work of Leonidas Stellakis, the Greek poet and editor, there.

Minetta Lane is a symbol of the pleasant and leisurely side of the village, and a relief from the pseudo-intellectualism expressed in long hair, velveteen coats and the sundry "prop" settings that give the village the haloed fakery of Chinatown.—O. O. McIntyre.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB HEARS DR. WETHERILL

The members of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts were given a rare treat Thursday evening when Dr. H. G. Wetherill, of Monterey, gave a travelogue on Italy and Sicily, during which a number of beautiful and interesting lantern slides were shown, many of them handsomely colored.

Dr. Wetherill is a very pleasing talker, with a large store of travel information from which to draw, and fascinated his audience with intimate descriptions of the two regions. Particularly fascinating was the Sicily group, as the beauties of that isle are not so generally known as are the attractions of Italy.

Dr. Wetherill also showed a group of auto-chromes, or photographs in natural color. The group included flowers, flags, rugs, drapes, etc., and were as perfect in color delineation as could possibly be imagined.

It was the unanimous verdict of all those attending, that Dr. Wetherill had given the club members one of the most delightful of its many "member's nights."

A Statement of Policy

THE PASSING of Louis Rudolph took from the active business life of the Monterey Peninsula one of its most progressive merchants, under whose direction Rudolph's Furniture Store became the leading furniture concern in Monterey county, having furnished hundreds of homes within the Circle of Enchantment, from Carmel Highlands to Seaside.

¶ The friendly spirit, keen judgement, genuine love of humanity, and willingness to render the utmost in service, that marked the characteristics of Louis Rudolph will be remembered by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Every effort will be made to carry on the business as well as before, and to make it as good as the late Louis Rudolph would have wanted to make it.

¶ The public is cordially invited to inspect the enlarged stocks of Rudolph's Furniture Store, new shipments having recently arrived from rug and furniture manufacturers. For the past five years, all buying for this store has been conducted by Ray Rudolph, who will continue to be buyer and in that capacity take the same care in the selection of merchandise that has given Rudolph's Furniture Store its splendid reputation.

¶ There are no services or orders too large or too small for Rudolph's to handle. Delivery of articles purchased here will be made daily, without charge, to all Monterey Peninsula points. Telephone orders will be courteously and promptly served.

¶ Rudolph's is an institution of service to the home-makers of the Monterey Peninsula. There is nothing so important or so permanent as the home—and it is our pride that our business is one linked so closely with America's most important institution.

PARKHURST CANVASES

An unusual opportunity is afforded art lovers of the peninsula to see again the work of the late Thomas Shrewsbury Parkhurst, of Carmel Highlands, from February fifteenth to March first, at the Mission Art and Curio Store in Monterey.

The rare qualities of poetry and strength, rhythmic symmetry and brave colors of his marines are recalled with poignant emotion, for there was but one artist who interpreted the moods of Point Lobos and the mystic forests and seas of this coast in this manner. Each sees and feels differently and his reactions found great response in the public, both of the west and of the east. He is represented in the National Academy of Design, New York, Toledo Art Museum, Grand Rapids Art Society, Des Moines, Lima, Oakland and many other centers, and was a member of the National Academy, Western Society of Artists, Salamagundi Club, National Arts, and Bohemian Club. Few of his canvases are in western galleries, and this showing is only effected by the administrators of his affairs to close his estate.

"BRICK" MORSE'S COLLEGIANS

Including in its program a large jazz band composed exclusively of college musicians, Brick Morse's Collegians, formerly the University of California Glee Club, departs from the established order of glee club concerts.

The jazz band is, however, the only exponent of syncopation on the program. The Club itself sings the finest of male chorus numbers, including the classics, bits from light opera and typical glee club songs. In such numbers as the Kipling-Galloway "Gypsy Trail," the public seems to love them best. Rollicking college songs are also sung to perfection by these young men from Berkeley, and pep and vigor vie with excellency of interpretation and perfection of execution. Director C. R. Morse, who has led the club for almost thirty years, has achieved a remarkable control over the singers.

The Collegians will give a single performance at the Theatre of the Golden Bough next Saturday evening, February 27.

LAWRENCE STRAUSS TO BE HEARD AT GOLDEN BOUGH

Carmel will welcome Lawrence Strauss, tenor, in recital tomorrow night at the Theatre of the Golden Bough. Since Mr. Strauss' delightful concert here two years ago he has been to Europe for concertizing and study, and today stands without a superior in this country as a recitalist. His diction rivals, if it does not excel, that of any other American singer, and his voice, as Carmel already knows, is beautiful and sympathetic in quality. Adding to this natural vocal endowment deep study and a fine intelligence, together with a sure instinct for program building, Mr. Strauss has achieved a finished perfection in his recitals. This will be his only appearance on the Peninsula this year.

On the occasion of his recent trip abroad, the London Musical News and Herald said: "Lawrence Strauss adds to a velvety tenor voice an exceptional interpretive power, combined with an enormous respect for the poets' intentions. We welcome to our shores an artist who can sing as well as he can, and who gives us the added joy of recreating our songs in a way few of our native singers trouble to achieve."

Mr. Strauss wil be accompanied by Elizabeth Alexander, one of California's best pianistes, who will also contribute a group of solo numbers.

There is now on display at the Carmel News Company a copy of the Ulster County Gazette, published at Kingston, N. Y., dated January 4, 1800. Enclosed in black rules and borders an account is given of the death of George Washington at Mt. Vernon, Virginia, on December 14, 1799. There also appears the official death notice and the proceedings of Congress. The paper is about the size of the Pine Cone, except that it is but four pages.

CHERRY FESTIVAL

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

Pursuant to resolution duly passed by the Board of Trustees of Sunset School District on February 17th, 1926,

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that said Board of Trustees hereby invite sealed bids or proposals for the purchase of the old Sunset School building and two small outstanding temporary buildings situate on the grounds of said Sunset School, City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Said bids must be delivered to the undersigned clerk of said board at or before eight o'clock p. m., Wednesday, the 10th day of March 1926, at which date and hour said bids will by said board be publicly opened, examined and declared in the new Sunset School building in said city.

To be considered by said board, all proposals must be accompanied by a duly certified check in ten per cent of the amount of the bid, which shall be forfieted to said school district in the event the successful bidder fails or refuses to carry out the terms of his proposal.

Said buildings are to be sold contingent upon the same being removed from said school grounds within 15 days from and after the date of the award of contract.

The whole amount of the proposal made by the successful bidder must be paid to said Board of Trustees prior to the removal of said buildings from said grounds and within ten days from and after said award of contract.

Said Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the Board of Trustees of Sunset School District.

FLORENCE M. SPOEHR,
Clerk of said Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Meade Williams has as her house guest, Mrs. Effie Crowe of Piedmont.

Mrs. Arnold Needham and Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman of Suisun, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Jordan.

Dr. Noel H. Porter, Archdeacon of the Diocese of California (Episcopal) was the guest recently of the Charles Clarks.

Letters just received from Miss Ella Shaw of Carmel Highlands state that she spent Christmas in the Riviera. At present she is in Egypt.

Guests at Sea View Inn include: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hubbard, Sam Hubbard, IV., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bigley, Oakland; Mrs. H. G. Ponting, Berkeley.

Miss Carolla Hubbard of Oakland is the guest of her uncle and cousin, Dr. William D. Swan and daughter, at their cottage "Wee Goose" on San Antonio. Dr. Swan is a retired physician of Boston.

Mrs. Anne Ferguson of Limewood, Scone, Scotland, and Vancouver, is the guest of Miss Anne Martin. She is the widow of Captain Thomas Ferguson, Black Watch regiment, who died in action in France. Mrs. Ferguson recently produced Franz Molnar's "The Swan" at the Little Theatre in Vancouver. She intends visiting Hallywood before returning to Vancouver.

Miss Ida M. Curtis has a fine exhibition of her work on the walls of the Carmelita gallery in Pasadena.

Conspicuous in the audience of "The Torch Bearers" last week-end were many San Francisco theatrical people.

Miss Hilda Hilliard, who suffered a gunshot wound last Sunday evening, is reported to be well on the road to recovery.

Miss Anne Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sumner Greene, was in San Francisco this week, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Calvin Bates, recently married.

Players, umpires, spectators, everybody interested in the Abalone Baseball League, will be glad to learn that Charlie Van Riper and wife will be here from New York next week.

"Dulcy" rehearsals are progressing smoothly and, according to report, the performance of the charming comedy, still two weeks away, promises some delightful surprises by way of some new "finds" of Carmel dramatic talent. Seats are already selling at the Palace Drug Store.

Leo McHale of Philadelphia was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheridan last week. Arriving in the rain, he brought with him a large sized grouch, Frank says, but with a day's sunshine Mr. Grouch departed with the rain. And—another enthusiastic booster for the peninsula is now on his way east.

Praise Sounded by Alabamans

Three Former Sufferers Give Full Credit for Their Relief to Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup

The test of any medicine is what those say who have used it. For years and years Alabama people have been employing Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup in the treatment of such ailments as constipation, indigestion, biliousness and other suffering resulting from a disordered liver and impure blood. Here is how they write about it:

"One of my neighbors told me about Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup and got me to try it, and it is the only thing that helped my indigestion," said Mrs. Mayo Pesnell, Route 1, Baileytown, Ala.

"I felt like my stomach was burning up. Gas would form and make me miserable. This brought on constipation and dull headaches that would hang on for days.

"My first bottle of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup did me so much good that I began taking it regularly. I kept on taking it till I got completely over my trouble and can never without it."

"I was actually afraid to speak of my suffering or complain of anything for fear that my mother would make me take medicine which I hated," said Miss Forrest Deese, Route 9, Cullman, Ala.

"I had asthma very bad and my health was failing so fast I just had to do something about it. We have used Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup for years and look on it as a family remedy, so I took that and it helped me more than anything. I don't know how we could get along without this grand tonic."
